The Inquirers' Class offers an opportunity to meet with the co-pastors and others interested in learning more about membership at Montview. The Inquirers' Class offers an opportunity to meet with the co-pastors and others interested in learning more about membership at Montview. This class is not a commitment to join the church, but rather a time to learn and receive answers to your questions. If, after the class, you decide to join Montview, you will be welcomed as a member during a special portion of a scheduled Sunday service.

If you have any questions or would like more details on the membership class, please contact Cindy Austin at cindy@montview.org.
